Second Delivery:
Here's My Number

Isn't your assistant supposed to buy that stuff for you? Did she quit?
No.
Do you need it urgently? Should I head on over to the convenience store and buy you one?
No rush.

My little brother, what a brat!

It had been two months since he had first met Zou Xiao An.

But over these two months, they only saw each other twice, having never exchanged numbers...

Even though Song Kai called the delivery company's number, it seemed as though only the other employees used it.

Obviously it was a good idea to hand over the delivery slip like that

The suspense is killing me.

BUZZ BUZZ BUZZ

This voice, there's no doubt about it!

Hello sir, White Cloud Delivery, could you come out and sign?

Of course, give me a moment.

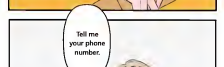
I already had my coworker do the delivery.

Looks like I missed this one...
Mitsuke

Coworker
Hehe, at the lobby of South Wind Entertainment, a beautiful woman respectfully called out to the man accepting the package. "Hello President." Looks like the president likes anime shopping, heh.
Is he saying something shameful?

Zou Xiao An.

Your delivery, please sign.



Tell me your phone number.

You want to file a complaint? Use the company's number.

Sou soft.
